The Action Agenda is meant to be a two-year plan which will be followed by a public report on the progress DDOT has made. Five areas in which DDOT believes it has excelled in dealing with needed improvement are: safe passages; sustainable living; capital assets; prosperous places and firm foundation. 15th Street Survey

In response to community concerns regarding traffic speeds and pedestrian and bicycle safety on 15th St NW north of Massachusetts Avenue, DDOT analyzed various options to reconfigure the street. As a hybrid alternative, DDOT installed the contra-flow protected cycle track between Massachusetts Avenue and U Street as a pilot project. This is both the first protected cycle track and the first contra-flow bicycle lane in Washington, and as such DDOT is committed to analyzing the cycle track for improvements and lessons to apply to future cycle tracks. Included in this analysis are traffic data (speed and volume), bicycle and pedestrian counts and observations, cycle track user surveys, and general user surveys.

Persons living or working on or near 15th Street NW between Massachusetts Avenue and U Street, or who use this stretch to walk, cycle or drive, are invited to visit the on-line survey at:
